Perfection is immutable,
but for things imperfect,
to change is the way
to perfect them.—Feltham

the prologue

Deeply-imprinted images lie dormant
in the mind
and in the heart
until . . .

by some word,
or by some picture,
their dormancy is disturbed.
Then these images become a part of a forgotten reality.

The purpose of these pages—
to reopen the treasurehouse
of your mind
to the many moods
which composed this year
within your family . . .

the Milligan Family . . .
moods intricately intertwined,
yet infinitely dissimilar . . . moods in mosaics . . .

College days—
each filled with so many activities,
such varied activities.
Some may constitute boredom
 due to their ritualistic regularity.
Others are of deep, silent contemplation upon things within and things without.
Many hours of each day
are spent with others
 in fun . . .
 in worship . . .
 in study . . .
comprising those associations
which develop that acquired sense of shoring.
Life is lived
 day
 by
 day.
This is the way
 character is formed . . .
 day
 by
 day.

To love life and men as God loves them—for the sake of
their infinite possibilities,

to wait like Him,
to judge like Him
without passing judgment,
to obey the order when it is given
and never look back—
then He can use you—then, perhaps, He will use you.

And if he doesn't use you—what matter. In His hands, every moment has its meaning, its greatness, its glory,
its peace, its co-inherence.

From this perspective, to "believe in God" is to believe in yourself, as self-evident, as "illogical", and as impossible to explain: if I can be, then God is.

It began . . .
. . . and then it was over . . .
o blur of events,
a mosaic of 'instants',
a series of split seconds
torn from life—

this was Milligan
1965.

It was
a year,
not of events,
but
of events that happened
because of people,
your classmates,
experiencing
agony and victory,
mood and mystery,
decisive moments,
intellectual illumination,
spiritual awareness,
friendship—

this was
1965.

It began . . .
. . . and then it was over . . .
but
the memory
of 'special' personalities remains vivid in
these pages of
autographs

Charming Early American SOLID HARD ROCK MAPLE

VERSATILE GROUP

Such a practical, pretty answer to the small dining area! The space-saving round table is small enough for Continental dining, cards or games... yet extends to seat as many as eight. Comfortable sculptured saddle seats in chairs. A rare value indeed in fine Early American furniture.

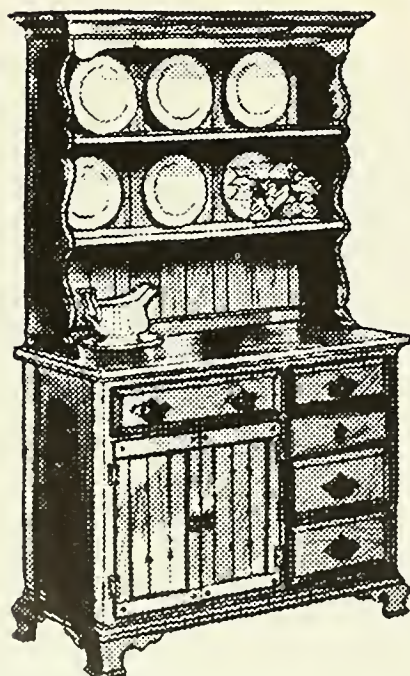

You'll want this ensemble in your home!

HANDSOME BUFFET-HUTCH

A real showpiece for your dining room, at such a practical price. The original handcraft feeling is retained in the intricately carved edges, the notched paraling motif, the authentic brass hardware. Dustproof drawers and storage area protect your finest silver, china and linens.

*All pieces shown
from Empire's Bon-

Electricity Powers Progress

Nearly 100 years ago, Thomas A. Edison with his electrical inventions, started the world on a progressive movement that is still going strong.

Today, through the use of electrical installations, industries are expanding, diversifying, and improving products, bringing us better goods at lower cost.

Today, home appliances wipe out drudgery and furnish comfort. Electricity powers these appliances.

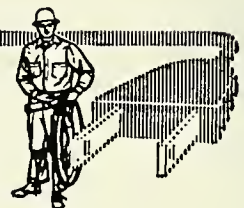

Today businesses give their customers better service in more comfortable surroundings. Electricity makes this possible.

Electricity furnishes the help to make jobs easier . . . powers the devices that make homes more comfortable . . . improves services to communities.

We serve this area low-cost TVA-generated electricity and we are proud!

We also take this opportunity to congratulate our students, and to say, "We are proud of you, too!"
